CYPRUS INTERNATIONAL UNIVERSITY
PRINCIPAL REGULATION

*Note: This document is translated to English with the aim of helping foreign students and personel to understand the Principal Regulation of the Cyprus International University. However, if there is any difference between the Turkish language version of this document and the English language version, the Turkish version shall be applicable.

SECTION ONE
General Provisions

Short Name

1. This regulation is named "Cyprus International University Principal Regulation".

Definitions

2. Unless otherwise defined in this Regulation;
   - (a) "Department", shall refer to part of a faculty made up of major domains of study, within disciplines of science and arts, that are related or complementary, that constitute a whole on the basis of their aim, scope and quality; or an educational unit that internally constitutes a whole, established with the aim of offering common courses to various units of higher education;
   - (b) "Associate Professor", shall refer to a person who holds an academic title which immediately precedes that of a professor in academic ranking;
   - (c) "Institute", shall refer to an institution of higher education within the University which can undertake graduate level education and training, scientific research and applied research within multiple similar and related scientific domains;
   - (d) "Faculty", shall refer to an institution of higher education within the University which can undertake higher education and training, scientific research and publication, and to which units can be linked;
   - (e) "Board of Trustees", shall refer to the CIU Board of Trustees;
   - (f) "New Island Education Ltd.", shall refer to the corporation which was officially registered with the Registrar of Companies on 9 January 1991 for the purposes of providing education and training services;
   - (g) "Instructor", shall refers to academic staff who implement or administer courses in subject matters determined as common compulsory subjects for various academic programs in the process of education-training;
   - (h) "Academic Staff", shall refer to faculty members, lecturers, instructors, and teaching assistants who have been assigned duties within institutions of higher education;
   - (i) "Lecturer", shall refer to an academic staff member who is assigned the duty of administering courses and application;
   - (j) "Faculty Member", shall refer to professors, associate professors and assistant professors assigned to institutions of higher education;
   - (k) "Teaching Assistant", shall refer to research assistants, experts, translators and education and training planners who have been assigned to institutions of higher education for determined lengths of time.
   - (l) "Professor", shall refer to an individual who holds the highest ranking academic title;
   - (m) "Applied Research Center", shall refer to an institution of higher education where education and training, and applied research is undertaken with the aim of supporting education and training within institutions of higher education, providing preparatory and complementary activities for certain vocations, and providing opportunities of application within various domains;
   - (n) "University", shall refer to Cyprus International University (CIU);
   - (o) "Assistant Professor", shall refer to a person holding the first academic title who has successfully concluded their PhD studies, and obtained the authority of, and, in medicine, the title document of a specialist, or, in certain domains of art, the document of qualification;

(p) "YÖDAK", shall refer to Northern Cyprus Council of Higher Education Planning, Evaluation and Accreditation;

(r) "YÖK", shall refer to Turkish Higher Education Council;

(s) "Vocational School", shall refer to an institution of higher education which places the emphasis on education and training aimed at a specific vocation.

Scope

3. The present regulation shall cover the organs, and academic and administrative functions of the University.

SECTION TWO

Establishment, Accreditation and Aim of the University

Establishment and Accreditation

4. The University is an Institution of Higher Education established in 1996 by New Island Education Ltd. under the permit number 118/97 for Establishing a Private Institution of Education issued by the National Ministry of Education, Culture, Youth and Sports. The University is an Institution of Higher Education accredited by YÖK, and is monitored and audited by the government as per YÖDAK Law.

Aim of the University

5. In line with the general national aims of education, expressed in National Education Law numbered 17/1986, the University aims to:

(a) Contribute to the supply of work force in TRNC, and in this context, to undertake university level activities of education and training, scientific research, publication and consulting, at par with international levels of quality;

(b) Undertake activities of technological production of all types, and utilize, facilitate utilization of, and spread the end-results of these processes of production;

(c) Spread scientific data and related interpretation verbally, in writing, and by other means, and thus contribute to and affect the development of the society;

(d) Carry out duties in educating the individuals of our community through formal and non-formal methods of education;

(e) Undertake collaboration with similar local and international institutions within scientific, technological, and educational domains, in order to contribute to development at a global level, and in this way become a distinguished member of the universe of science.

SECTION THREE

Organs of the University

Organs of the University

6. Organs of the University are comprised of the Board of Trustees, the Rector's Office, the Senate, the University Administrative Board, Dean's Offices, Faculty Administrative Boards, Faculty Boards, Offices of Department Heads, Department Boards, Institute Administrative Board and the Preparatory School Administrative Board.

Board of Trustees

7. (a) Board of Trustees is the supreme decision making body of the University, and is comprised of 5 members. General Director of the New Island Education Ltd. (during his tenure) and the Rector are permanent members; the remaining 3 members are elected for a duration of three years by unanimous vote of New Island Education Ltd. Board of Directors. New Island Education Ltd. Board of Directors shall take into consideration the qualities prescribed by the relevant regulations when assigning experienced individuals who possess the capacity to contribute to the development of the University. Upon expiration of the three year term of a member it is possible to reassign this same member.

(b) In those instances where, under any pretext a member should retire from their assigned post prior to the expiration of their three year term, the new member assigned to replace such member shall hold the position for the remainder of the retiring member's three year term.

(c) A member of the Board of Trustees appointed by way of voting may be removed from their assigned post in accordance with the rules of appointment.

Duties and Authority of the Board of Trustee

8. Except when provided otherwise, the Board of Trustees shall adopt majority vote ruling when reaching decisions. The duties and authority of the Board of Trustees are:

(a) As per provisions of the present Regulation, adopt and implement the regulations covering the establishment and functioning of the organs and units of the University, to assess and decide on measures that are aimed at augmenting the quality of education provided by the University and at undertaking activities of an international scope;

(b) Establish and/or ratify, on behalf of the University, agreements with institutions that are similar to the University;

(c) Assign staff to administrative and/or academic posts of authority within the University in accordance with proposals made by the Rector, and/or facilitate advancement of related staff;

(d) Assign the Rector of the University;

(e) Establish or dissolve academic units and establish applied research centers within the University;

(f) Draw up the University budget and ensure its implementation;

(g) Assess the provisions to be adopted within the staff service contracts, and sign the said contracts and/or delegate the authority to sign such;

(h) Determine the policies regarding academic fees and principles for issuing scholarships.

President of the Board of Trustees

9. President of the Board of Trustees shall be elected from among its members by themselves. The vice president shall be elected by the president in order to assist him/her in his/her duties. Title of President of the Board of Trustees and that of the Rector shall not be held by the same person.

Transfer of Powers

10. The Board of Trustees may transfer part of its powers for a determined duration to the President, to the Rector or, upon a proposal of the Rector, to other authorized individuals within the University.

Rector's Office, the Rector and Vice Rector

11. (a) Rector's Office is the principal executive organ within the University, comprised of the Rector, Vice Rectors, and the secretariat.

(b) Rector shall be appointed through absolute majority vote by the members of the Board of Trustees for a duration of three years.

(c) Rector shall appoint a maximum of three faculty members for the post of Vice Rector subject to approval of the Board of Trustees. Vice Rectors shall assist the Rector as instructed by them. One of the Vice Rectors shall be assigned by the Rector to act as the proxy Rector in their absence.

(d) The Rector may be dissolved of their duties prior to the conclusion of their term, with the pretext for such act to be produced in writing, as per the rules governing appointment of the Rector.

Duties and Powers of the Rector

12. The Rector shall:

(a) Employ executive authority towards realizing integrally the aims of establishment and functioning, in line with the decisions of the Board of Trustees. Ensure that copies of planning, programs, reports, and decisions are prepared by the Senate, and that such are implemented again by the Senate, upon approval;

(b) Supervise faculty members and other staff of the University;

(c) Supervise and audit the working conditions, productivity, and standards within the institutions and units of the University, as well as the efficiency of the academic and administrative staff; ensure that personnel records are held, and ensure that personnel performance evaluations are carried out in line with job descriptions;

(d) Preside over the Senate, the University Board of Administration and, in instances where such is deemed necessary, other boards within the University, study proposals made by boards within the University before reaching decisions on these, facilitate systematic team-work between the institutions of the University;

(e) Inform the Board of Trustees, at the end of every academic year and whenever required, on education and training, as well as scientific research and publication activities undertaken by the University;

(f) Consult the Senate and the University Board of Administration to obtain their views and proposals prior to drawing up the University budget and determining investment programs and staffing needs within the University, and presenting these to the Board of Trustees;

(g) In instances where deemed necessary, assign new duties to the academic and other staff employed within constituting units of the University, or change their assigned place of duty with their present category of service remaining intact;

(h) Take part in meetings held by Faculty, School and Institute Administrative Boards, without partaking in the process of voting;

(i) Carry out other duties related to administration and/or education and training assigned to them as per the present Regulation.

Composition and Assembly of the Senate

13. Comprised of Vice Rectors, Deans, and Institute, Center and School Directors which function under the Rector's, Senate is the supreme decision making body of the University and is presided by the Rector. Senate assembles at the beginning and at the end of every academic semester at least four times annually. The Senate is convened by the Rector in those instances where the Rector deems it necessary.

Duties of the Senate

14. Principal duties of the Senate are, to:

(a) Take decisions on principles, programs and planning concerning activities of education and training, scientific research and publication within the University;

(b) Undertake assessments and adopt a view on the systemic structure of the University, or on practices implemented at the University, and draw up draft regulations concerning these issues;

(c) Rule on the recommendations made by faculty boards concerning honorary academic titles that are to be accorded without an examination, and make recommendations on this matter to the Board of Trustees through the Rector;

(d) Deliberate and rule on the objections raised against the decisions taken by faculty boards, as well as by the board of the Institute and by boards of Schools that are affiliated to the Rector's Office;

(e) Appoint members to the University Administrative Board;

(f) Fulfill other tasks which are to be assigned by the Rector's Office to the Senate.

Composition, Meeting and Duties of the University Administrative Board

15. (a) Presided by the Rector, the University Administrative Board is a body that is aimed at assisting the Rector. It is comprised of vice rectors, deans, and three professors appointed by the Senate for a duration of three years during which they shall present their various units affiliated with the University and their domains. The duty of rapporteur shall be undertaken by the Secretary General.

(b) The University Board of Administration assembles upon a request of the Rector.

(c) The University Administrative Board deliberates and puts forward views and recommendations and/or takes decisions concerning the agenda that was determined by the Rector. In this context, the University Administrative Board shall:

(i) Assist the Rector, in accordance with the program and planning that was determined in relation to the implementation of the decisions reached by the Senate concerning the administration of the University;

(ii) Ensure that operational programs and planning are implemented; take into consideration recommendations made by the units affiliated with the University when studying the investment program and budget draft proposal before submitting these to the Rector's Office together with its proper recommendations;

(iii) Reach decisions concerning matters related to administration of the University as assigned by the Rector;

(iv) Study and reach final decisions on objections raised against decisions taken by the Faculty Administrative Boards, and by the Institute and School Administrative Boards;

(v) Assume the duties of faculty and school administrative boards in those instances where the boards of said units could not assemble.

Appointment of Deans, and Vice Deans

16. (a) Dean is the administrator and representative of a faculty and its units. Dean shall be appointed for a maximum duration of three years by the Board of Trustees from among candidates recommended by the Rector and holding the title of associate professor, or a higher ranking title.

(b) A given person may be reappointed as dean upon conclusion of their initial term.

(c) A maximum of two academic staff members shall be chosen and appointed by the Dean as Vice Dean in order to assist the Dean in executing their assigned duties.

(d) The Dean may be dissolved of their duties prior to conclusion of their term, on the grounds of a pretext to be notified in writing by the Rector, in accordance with the requirements of the appointment. In such instances the Vice Deans shall also be dissolved of their duties.

Dean's Duties and Powers

17. Duties and powers of a Dean are:

(a) Ensure that academic and administrative activities of the faculty are organized and efficient, and facilitate inter-unit coordination;

(b) Include matters relevant to their faculty when determining Faculty Board agendas, preside over Faculty Board and Faculty Administrative Board, and ensure that decisions are reached over raised issues;

(c) At the end of every academic year, submit a report concerning the performance of their faculty and its affiliated units to the Rector, and put forward written opinion and proposals concerning the development of their faculty and its affiliated units;

(d) Submit reasoned reports to the Rector's Office concerning staff and allowance needs of the faculty, pursuant to deliberations undertaken over these items during the meeting of the Faculty Administrative Board;

(e) Undertake other educational or administrative duties concerning their faculty as assigned by the Rector's Office.

Composition, Assembly, Duties and Powers of the Faculty Board

18. (a) Composition and Assembly:

(i) Presided by the Dean, the Faculty Board is comprised of heads of faculty departments, an elected Professor, an Associate Professor, an Assistant Professor and a Lecturer, if such are elected.

(ii) The Faculty Board is an academic body, and shall assemble annually, normally at the beginning and end of every semester, and in instances where the Dean deems it appropriate.

(b) Duties and powers of the Faculty Board are:

(i) Take decisions concerning planning, adoption within a program, and implementation of faculty activities of education-training, scientific research and publication;

(ii) Undertake assessments and reach decisions concerning academic status, education-training and examination of students as well as their admission to, or expulsion from the University;

(iii) Deliberate and reach a decision concerning matters that were transmitted to the Faculty Board by the Rector's Office, or concerning other matters that were presented by the Dean to the Faculty Board, and elect individuals to be assigned as members of the Faculty Administrative Board.

Composition, Assembly, Duties and Powers of the Faculty Administrative Board

19. (a) Composition and Assembly:

(1) Presided by Dean of the faculty, the Faculty Administrative Board is comprised of heads of faculty departments, as well as, an elected Professor, 1 Associate Professor and 1 Assistant Professor, if such are elected.

(2) Faculty Administrative Board is a body aimed at assisting the dean, and assembles upon the dean's request. The board is assigned the duties and equipped with the powers indicated below:

(i) Undertake planning and programming concerning faculty activities;

(ii) Draw up faculty administrative plans and budget proposals, to be submitted to the Rector's Office;

(iii) Study, decide on, other administrative matters which the dean may present, and put forward recommendations concerning such matters.

Appointment, Duties and Responsibilities of a Department Head

20. (a) A Department Head is the person responsible of the unit implementing education-training and scientific research activities within the faculty. Department Head shall be appointed by the Rector for a maximum duration of three years, upon due consideration of recommendation dean and opinion of the department board. A Department Head may be reappointed upon conclusion of their term, or they may be dissolved of their duties prior to the conclusion of their term, in accordance with the requirements for appointing a department head.

(b) Duties and Responsibilities of a Department Head are to:

(i) Preside over department board assemblies;

(ii) Organize education and training function of the department;

(iii) Determine and inform the dean of shortages of the department;

(iv) Ensure that staff can undertake their duties optimally;

(v) Undertake coordination with other departments;

(vi) Execute other appropriate duties as assigned by the dean's office.

Composition, Assembly and Duties of the Department Board

21. (a) Presided by a department head, a department board is comprised of the entire academic staff of the department. Department Board shall convene a minimum of three times every semester, and in instances deemed necessary by the department head.

(b) A Department Board shall execute following duties:

(i) Produce decisions and proposals, and undertake works over planification, adoption within a program, and implementation of activities of education-training, scientific research, and scientific publication within the faculty.

(ii) Draw up investment and development projects aimed at development of the department and/or implement such projects;

(iii) Communicate their opinion on administrative matters related to the department, and draw up budget proposals;

(iv) Carry out other legitimate duties as assigned to them by the dean.

Establishment of the Institutes and Schools

22. (a) Institutes and Schools undertaking education-training and applied scientific research at graduate level shall be established by a decision of the Board of Trustees, upon a deliberation and assessment by the Senate of the reports submitted by the working group assigned by the Rector's Office.

(b) Institutes and Schools shall function in accordance with the rules that have become enforceable as of such point in time when the Board of Trustees gave effect to regulations drawn up by the Senate.

SECTION FOUR
Academic Staff

Academic Staff

23. (a) Academic staff of the University is comprised of faculty members, lecturers, instructors and teaching assistants who hold full-time positions.

(b) Professors, associate professors and assistant professors contracted on full-time basis shall be assigned initial positions for a period of maximum two years. In those instances where the initial term of a faculty member has been concluded without a 45 day prior announcement, their assignment shall be renewed for the duration that is indicated in their contract. Lecturers, instructors, teaching assistants as well as academic staff holding a part-time status shall be assigned positions for a duration of maximum one or two semesters; such positions may be reassigned at the end of this duration.

(c) Matters pertaining to duties as well as rights and benefits accruing to all academic personnel shall be indicated in their individual contracts of employment. Some of the said duties are as follows:

(i) Undertake and facilitate education-training and applied works, and oversee projects preparations and seminars in accordance with the aim and principles of the present Regulation;

(ii) Undertake scientific research and publications within institutions of higher education;

(iii) Execute duties to be assigned by authorized bodies;

(iv) Execute appropriate duties as indicated in the present Regulation.

SECTION FIVE
Final Provisions

Validity

24. This Regulation shall take effect upon approval of the Board of Trustees.